11                   Petitioner,

12                   v.

13 MICHAEL B. MUKASEY, Attorney
14 General of the United States,

15                   Respondent.

16                   CASE NO. C08-36-TSZ-JPD

17                   REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

18                   I. INTRODUCTION AND SUMMARY CONCLUSION

19                   Petitioner Domingo German Macavilca, proceeding pro se, has filed an Amended 20 Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2241, challenging his detention by the U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”).<sup>1</sup> (Dkt. 6). Petitioner requests that the 21                   On January 10, 2008, petitioner filed a Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus challenging

22 his continued detention by ICE. (Dkt. 1). However, petitioner failed to pay the $5.00 filing fee
23 or submit a request to proceed in forma pauperis (“IFP”). Accordingly, the Court sent 24 petitioner a letter directing him to either pay the $5.00 filing fee, or submit an application for IFP status. (Dkt. 3). On January 18, 2008, petitioner submitted the $5.00 filing fee along with an amended petition for writ of habeas corpus, which was subsequently served on the Government.
(Dkt. 6). On February 11, 2008, petitioner filed a second amended Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus, Dkt. 9, which is identical to his first amended habeas petition. Because petitioner failed

1 Court order him released on bond or on his own recognizance, arguing that his conviction for
2 Theft in the Second Degree, is an deportable aggravated felony. Id. Petitioner has also filed a
3 Motion for Reduction of Bond or Change in Conditions of Release, Dkt. 17, requesting that the 4 Court order him released on bond or on conditions. Respondent has filed a motion to dismiss,
5 arguing that petitioner is lawfully detained pursuant to Section 241(a)(1)(C) of the Immigration
6 and Nationality Act (“INA”), pending his removal from the United States to Peru. (Dkt. 19).

7 Having carefully reviewed the entire record, I recommend that petitioner’s habeas
8 petition (Dkt. 6) be DENIED, petitioner’s motion for bond reduction (Dkt. 17) be DENIED,
9 and respondent’s motion to dismiss (Dkt. 19) be GRANTED.

10                   II. BACKGROUND AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

11                   Petitioner Domingo German Macavilca is a native and citizen of Peru, who entered the 12 United States without inspection on June 23, 1981. (Dkt. 20 at L298). On January 10, 2002,
13 petitioner filed a Form I-485 Application to Register Permanent Resident or Adjust Status under 14 LIFE Legalization. (Dkt. 20 at L200-03). On June 22, 2004, petitioner’s application for 15 adjustment of status was denied due to his conviction on October 28, 2002, in the Superior
16 Court for the State of Alaska of Theft in the Second Degree in violation of Alaska Statute §
17 11.46.130(a)(1). (Dkt. 20 at L213-15).

18                   On October 14, 2004, ICE served petitioner with a Notice to Appear, charging him with 19 removability as an alien present in the United States without being admitted or paroled, in 20 violation of INA § 212(a)(6)(A)(i). (Dkt. 20 at L297-98). On October 15, 2004, ICE lodged
21

23 to file a motion to amend his pleadings, and because petitioner’s second amended habeas
24 petition is identical to his first amended habeas petition, petitioner’s second amended habeas 25 petition, Dkt. 9, is hereby stricken. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 15.

1 an Additional Charge of Inadmissability/Deportability, charging petitioner with removability as
2 an alien who has been convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude, in violation of INA §
3 212(a)(2)(A)(i)(I). (Dkt. 20 at L296).

4 On April 20, 2005, an Immigration Judge (“IJ”) denied petitioner’s application for 5 asylum, withholding of removal, and relief under the Convention Against Torture, and ordered
6 him removed to Peru. (Dkt. 20 at R154). Petitioner appealed the IJ’s decision to the Board of 7 Immigration Appeals (“BIA”), who dismissed the appeal on August 16, 2005. (Dkt. 20 at 8 R154). Petitioner subsequently filed a Petition for Review of the BIA’s decision with the Ninth
9 Circuit Court of Appeals. See Macavilca-Parco v. Gonzales, No. 05-75400 (9th Cir. 2007).

10 On September 21, 2006, while his Petition for Review was pending, petitioner filed his 11 first habeas petition in this Court, challenging his continued detention. See Parco v. Clark, Case
12 No. C06-1346-RSL. On May 24, 2007, the Honorable Robert S. Lasnik dismissed the habeas
13 petition, concluding that petitioner was subject to mandatory detention under INA §
14 236(c)(1)(A). Id.

15 On January 16, 2007, the Ninth Circuit entered an Order denying in part and granting in 16 part petitioner’s Petition for Review, and remanding the case to the BIA. (Dkt. 20 at R125).
17 On June 15, 2007, the BIA issued a second decision dismissing petitioner’s appeal, finding 18 petitioner removable and ineligible for relief from removal. (Dkt. 20 at R199).

20 On July 10, 2007, petitioner filed a motion for release from detention with the 21 Immigration Court, which was denied on July 23, 2007. (Dkt. 20 at R153-55). On July 30,
22 2007, petitioner filed an appeal with the BIA, which was rejected on August 10, 2007. (Dkt. 20
23 at R252-53). On July 31, 2007, petitioner filed a Petition for Review with in the Ninth Circuit.
24

See Macavilca-Parco v. Mukasey, No. 07-73007. The Ninth Circuit dismissed the appeal and the mandate issued on January 17, 2008. See Macavilca-Parco v. Gonzales, No. 07-73007.

On November 30, 2007, petitioner submitted an Application for Stay of Deportation or Removal, along with a “Motion to Reopen the Petition for Bond-Determination and Motion to Reopen for Release on Own Recognizance” with the BIA. (Dkt. 20 at R313, R314-18). The BIA denied petitioner’s motions on December 28, 2007. (Dkt. 20 at R343-44).

On March 20, 2008, petitioner filed another Petition for Review with the Ninth Circuit, who dismissed the Petition on February 22, 2008, and the mandate issued on June 6, 2008. See Macavilca-Parco v. Mukasey, No. 07-74741.

III. DISCUSSION

“When a final order of removal has been entered against an alien, the Government must facilitate that alien’s removal within a 90-day ‘removal period.’” Thai v. Ashcroft, 366 F.3d 790, 793 (9th Cir. 2004)(citing Xi v. INS, 298 F.3d 832, 834-35 (9th Cir. 2002)); INA § 241(a)(1)(A), 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)(1)(A). The removal period begins on the latest of the following:

(i) The date the order of removal becomes administratively final.

(ii) If the removal order is judicially reviewed and if a court orders a stay of the removal of the alien, the date of the court's final order.

(iii) If the alien is detained or confined (except under an immigration process), the date the alien is released from detention or confinement

8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)(1)(B)(emphasis added); see also Khotesouvan v. Morones, 386 F.3d 1298, 1300 n.3 (9th Cir. 2004) (stating that the 90-day removal period commences on “the date the order of removal becomes final; the date a reviewing court lifts its stay following review and approval of the order of removal; or the date the alien ordered removed is released from non-

1 immigration related confinement.”). During the removal period, continued detention is required.
2 INA § 241(a)(2), 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)(2) (“During the removal period, the Attorney General shall
3 detain the alien.”). Where removal cannot be accomplished within the ninety-day removal
4 period, detention beyond the removal period is authorized by INA § 241(a)(6), 8 U.S.C. §
5 1231(a)(6); see Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678, 682, 121 S. Ct. 2491, 150 L. Ed. 2d 653
6 (2001). In Zadvydas, the Supreme Court determined that the government is entitled to a
7 presumptively reasonable period of detention of six months to bring about the alien’s removal
8 from the United States. Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 701. After this six month period, the alien is 9 eligible for conditional release upon demonstrating that there is “no significant likelihood of 10 removal in the reasonably foreseeable future.” Id. The petitioner has the burden of coming 11 forward with “good reason to believe there is no significant likelihood of removal in the 12 reasonably foreseeable future.” Id. If the petitioner meets this burden, the government must 13 produce sufficient evidence to rebut petitioner’s showing. Id.

15 In the present case, the Ninth Circuit mandate issued on June 6, 2008, thereby
16 commencing the removal period. See INA § 241(a)(1)(B)(ii), 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a)(1)(B)(ii).
17 Accordingly, petitioner’s ninety-day removal period will expire on or about September 6, 2008,
18 and the six month presumptively reasonable period will expire on or about December 6, 2008.
19 Accordingly, petitioner’s detention is lawful, and the Court must deny habeas relief. See
20 Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 701.

21 IV. CONCLUSION

22 For the foregoing reasons, I recommend that respondent’s motion to dismiss be granted,
23 and that the action be dismissed with prejudice. A proposed Order accompanies this Report and 24

1 Recommendation.
